

Beware

There are bad apples out there.

And they don't care about your fifth wheel.

Genuine Fontaine

Fontaine parts come in a brown box with "Genuine Fontaine Parts" printed on the box. The Fontaine brand and model number is forged into the jaw and wedge.

Bad Apple

The non-genuine parts come in a white box and jaw and wedge studs are pressed/glued into the forging. A picture of the failed part is shown above.

The purpose of this notice is to alert Fontaine customers of potential hazards from using "non-genuine" components, specifically the locking jaw and wedge.

Reports indicate failures are occurring as a result of the "non-genuine" locking wedge stud falling out at an early cycle time. This affects the proper opening and closing of the mechanism, and could create a dangerous condition.

Non-genuine components are easy to identify by the physical characteristics listed in the photo captions.

We do not support equipment that has been modified using "non-genuine" parts.

Modifying Fontaine equipment voids your warranty.
